BRAIN INJURY BOY'S PAYOUT

Hospital trust agrees £2.4m settlement but denies liability

A MOTHER has spoken of her relief after her son won a £2.4m payout nearly a decade after he was born brain damaged at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Robert Jackson, now aged nine, was awarded the sum after London's High Court heard he suffered oxygen starvation during his delivery at the hospital in July 1998 and is now afflicted by cerebral palsy which affects his powers of speech, co-ordination and comprehension.

His twin William was born 42 minutes earlier in an entirely healthy condition but Robert was unable to breathe when delivered, required emergency resuscitation and was affected by periodic convulsions during his first 24 hours of life.

Although a happy, outgoing boy who attends a mainstream local school, he is now stricken by developmental delay and speech problems and will need a carer in his adult life to help him cope with everyday challenges.

Speaking after Monday's ruling, his mother Penelope, of Home Close, Harlow, told the Star: "It has taken a long time but we are relieved it's over."

"It has been very stressful but we are pleased with the outcome."

Robert, via his mother, sought damages for negligence from the PAH NHS Trust, which denied liability for his injuries.

The family's lawyers claimed medical staff were to blame by failing to rush through an emergency caesarean section delivery after evidence of foetal distress came to light.

Trust barrister John Whitting said the hospital still refuted all claims of breach of duty.

Approving the payout, Mr Justice Roderick Evans said: "There can be no doubt that Robert has all the love and care he will ever need."

"I hope that this money – which I understand is no compensation at all – will improve his quality of life and security, and also help those who care for him to care for him."

A PAH spokesman said: "The trust is satisfied that the case has been settled without having a full trial. We sincerely hope that the settlement will be of benefit to Robert and his family."

Trial seeking to spot likely criminals early

UNDER-18s felt to be at risk of becoming career criminals will be targeted as part of a radical new drive to slash prolific and serious offending being piloted in Harlow.

Agencies in the town will swap details on youngsters in a bid to highlight those likely to follow a path of crime.

Those thought to be at a high, medium or low risk of constantly offending will be offered a tailored programme of support and education designed to keep them on the straight and narrow.

The year-long pilot, which was launched on Thursday, is part of a package drawn up by the Association of Chief Police Officers and the Youth Justice Board to cut future crime figures.

Harlow chief inspector Mike Martin said: "It's about being aware of youngsters who may be at risk of following a life of crime and giving them the support they need by intervention at an early stage. It is about stopping the cause of crime."

As well as Harlow and the rest of the Western Division, the Neighbourhood Policing Youth Tool Kit has also been rolled out in three London boroughs.

It assesses youngsters against 24 so-called risk factors which cover a range of criteria, including whether the young person has been the victim of parental abuse, if they struggle at school and if they have already offended or abused substances.

If they are shown to have been exposed to four or more of the factors, they are deemed to be at a high risk of offending. Harlow currently has 17 high risk youngsters.

Commenting on the strategy, ACPO spokesman and Essex Police chief constable Roger Baker said it is vital that processes are in place to identify young people early in their criminal careers.

As well as the strategy, ACPO has also called for the extension of existing programmes such as the Safer School Partnerships in which officers are deployed in schools identified as most in need of a full-time police presence.

Horse rescued after getting trapped in pit

A PREGNANT horse had to be rescued after it jumped in to a 4ft hole after being spooked by construction work.

The mare was in a field in Fern Hill Lane, Harlow, when loud bangs coming from nearby contractors caused her to run into the shallow pit and become trapped.

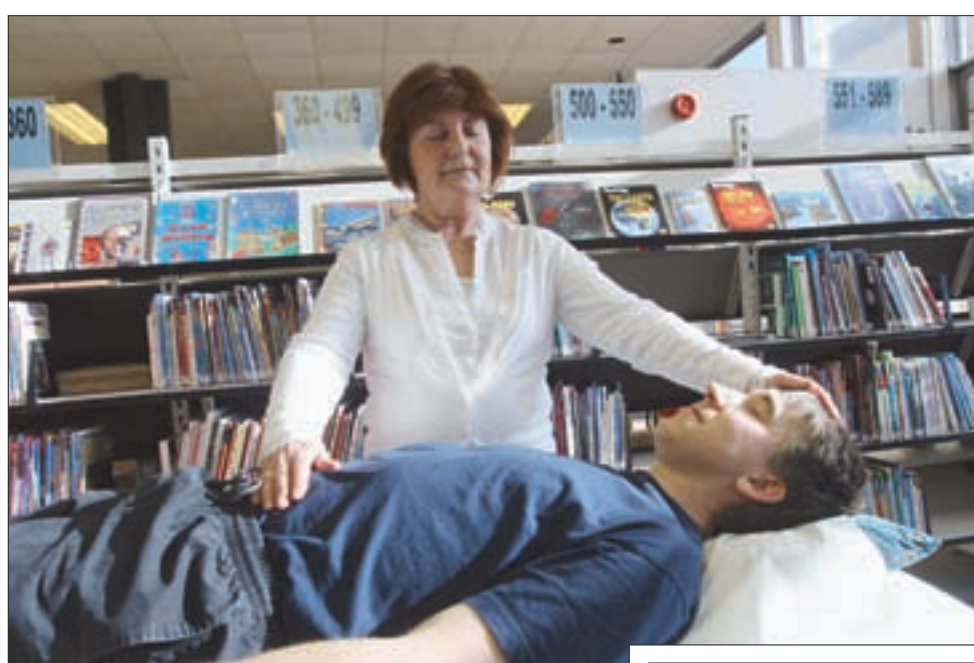

Firefighters worked for 30 minutes to free her, first using a mini digger and then building a make-shift dirt ramp for her to walk up.

She was led to safety using a head collar and lead rope and was checked over for injuries by an RSPCA inspector at the scene, who found her to be in good health.

Firefighter Rob Heath, who attended the scene at about 1.41pm Tuesday, said: "She had fallen in to the hole and had tried to get out by walking to one end but had got stuck."

"We used the digger to move the mud from around her torso and we built a ramp."

"With a smack on the bum and a 'giddy-up', she walked out without any help and didn't have any injuries, which was obviously good."

The healthier options

HEALTHY living was the order of the day when scores of people visited Harlow Central Library to find out how to live a better lifestyle.

Sporting demonstrations and stalls offering help and advice to quit bad habits were on offer during the six-hour free event.

Services manager Darren

Smart said the annual awareness day – the second of its kind – was part of Essex County Council's drive to get residents fitter. This year it was partnered by Harlow Council.

"There were more stalls and more activities than last year and we had a lot of people attend," he said.

Lib Dems are looking for the worst pothole

HARLOW's Liberal Democrats have launched their own campaign to find the town's worst pothole.

In a similar vein to the Star's Pothole Patrol, the party wants nominations from Harlow's residents about those blights which annoy them most.

The campaign is a move against Conservative-controlled Essex County Council's decision to allow potholes on the roads to be more than twice the current depth before they are filled in – up from 20-50mm.

Harlow's Lib Dem joint council leader Chris Millington said: "Liberal Democrats will continue to defend standards and the public interest. The travelling public wants improvements to highway maintenance, not the reverse."

Residents wishing to participate in the search for the worst pothole can send entries detailing the exact location to Harlow Lib Dems, Freepost ANG2570, Harlow, CM20 3BR.

Civic opposition to park plan

PROPOSED developments in Harlow Town Park have again met with fierce opposition from members of Harlow Civic Society.

The controversial Harlow Council plans were top of the agenda at the society's annual meeting on Tuesday, where members and guests reiterated their total opposition to the development of the park.

And although plans to relocate Pets' Corner have been temporarily shelved, the society sent out a clear "hands-off" message to the council, claiming only refurbishment and care was needed to give the popular attraction a new lease of life.

Members then reflected on the previous year, with chairman Ron Bill giving a break-neck account of the society's various activities throughout 2007.

For love of Burns and fine words

THE life and legacy of the great Scottish poet Robert Burns was celebrated with traditional gusto at a special Burns Night supper in Harlow on Friday.

Organised by the Harlow and District Caledonian Society, more than 90 people attended St John's Arts and Recreation Centre, in Old Harlow, to enjoy a traditional feast of haggis and tatties in honour of Scotland's favourite son.

Speeches quoting the great man were followed by an evening of traditional Highland dancing.

Social secretary Cate Barnett said: "It was a wonderful evening and a very merry time was had by all. The food was excellent, the speeches interesting and the traditional dancing was great fun!"

Brothels pair sent to prison

AN Epping couple have been jailed for 18 months after being convicted of running three illegal brothels.

Taxi driver Anthony Pryor (59), of The Plain, and his Chinese-born wife Quing Hua Pryor (37) were sent down at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday after a jury found them guilty on three counts of brothel-keeping for the use of prostitution.

The couple had both denied the charges, which related to premises in Braintree, Ipswich and Suffolk, claiming to have had no knowledge of any illegal activities at the sites.

But Judge David Turner QC told the pair they were "up to their necks in it" and had used the properties "for their own seedy and depraved arrangements".

They were found to have engaged young female illegal immigrants in activities relating to prostitution and made a great deal of money from it.

"These were shabby and shameful offences," he added. "You contested them in front of a jury and lied and lied and lied about the details and your knowledge."

Prosecutor Stephanie Farrimond said the three establishments had been advertised as providing "Far Eastern Massage" or "Chinese Remedies" in local newspapers.

When police raided the premises simultaneously on June 5, 2006 they found them to be sparsely furnished save for large quantities of condoms and cash, she said.

Defence counsel Simon Stirling claimed the convictions had left Pryor a broken man facing "a very bleak future indeed".

Barbara Lockyer, for his wife, said: "She is someone who is here without permission to stay. She faces the prospect of being sent back to China and away from her husband, who she says she loves."

Crime blueprint wants your help

A BLUEPRINT is being drawn up to help rid Harlow of crime and disorder as part of a major review of work.

Residents are being invited to share their concerns about drug abuse, anti-social behaviour, alcohol misuse and a range of issues affecting quality of life.

The consultation has been organised to help the Safer Harlow Partnership – which comprises representatives from the police, Harlow Council, fire service and local primary care trust – prioritise problems in the town, and enable them to respond to trouble more efficiently.

Views regarding children, youth, families, older people and local businesses are also welcome.

A council spokesman said: "The nature, extent and causes of local community safety problems can be better understood with the help of the people living in that community."

The meeting will take place at the Civic Centre on Wednesday from 7.30-9pm.

Attendees must book a place by calling Patrick Arnold on (01279) 446634 or Jen Winwright on (01279) 446514.

WE SAY

DECIDING if a child may become a future criminal on the basis of gathering information about their social background and other factors is bound to split opinion.

What we do, who our parents are and what we have been exposed to as a child inevitably have an effect on the way we develop as citizens.

And such a scheme could, in the right hands, be a useful tool for identifying deprivation, abuse and other risks to the young, allowing for timely intervention and guidance.

But there are legitimate concerns about the risk of straight-jacketing an innocent with a damaging label long before they may or may not sink into criminality.

Trustworthiness – as in so many other areas of our lives in which the establishment takes a controlling hand – is the key issue here.

The Government's abject failure of late to keep our confidential details secure raises serious doubts about its ability to protect a database concerning society's most vulnerable members; if such sensitive information leaked out or was misused, it could clearly blight lives before they had even properly begun.

Those tasked with administering this project owe it to all of us to ensure they earn our confidence – and keep it.

Public control vital for crematorium

SIR, UNISON members and staff attended the environmental committee meeting on the January 15 where councillors, with the honourable exception of Jean Clark, voted in favour of privatising Parndon Wood Crematorium and Cemetery following a very brief presentation from management.

How can such a decision be made without any public consultation? This facility has been in the town for nearly 50 years and provides a tranquil resting place for people's loved ones. The public have a right to be consulted, particularly those who have rights to burial plots and commemorative plots. Given the towns growing population, this facility is essential and should not be placed into the hands of profiteers.

Parndon Wood generates a regular yearly income, this financial year estimated at £273,860. Why has the council not invested a certain proportion of this public revenue back into the facility to provide the required investment? A well-planned strategy together with proactive and efficient management would ensure that it remains self-sufficient and in the public domain.

The council claims that £600,000 would have to be invested to upgrade cremator equipment to meet environmental standards; however, figures originally quoted in a report dated October 2006 were in the range of £300,000 to £600,000! How many estimates have been obtained? Is it just the one? Unfortunately, the committee refused to take questions from the public arena.

The majority of cremator investment is not required until 2012; this is not a sudden requirement thrust upon the council – they knew about it some time ago and can still plan for this over the next four years.

The facility charges £321 for a cremation service, one of the lowest fees in the country (Enfield charges £440, City of London £495). Please tell us what private company will invest hundreds of thousands of pounds, whilst paying the council the same levels of revenue, without putting fees up significantly to cover its own costs?

Councillors were also advised that £250,000 would be spent this year on roof repairs, just before handing it over to a private operator; hardly good sense from a local taxpayers point of view!

Enough is enough. Let's call a halt to the continued erosion of the town's public services; councillors should bear in mind that the local elections are not far away.

UNISON will continue to oppose the privatisation of Parndon Wood.

Martin Stedman
UNISON, Civic Centre, Harlow

Phil's a class act

SIR, As chair of the Playhouse Working Group since The Playhouse reopened after closure in '95, I know it's taken years to recover. The enormous progress made is in no small measure due to Phil Dale, who joined the council 10 years ago.

He became manager in '01, developing and building on excellent foundations laid by Laurence Sach.

Audience numbers increased by about a third over the past few years. The community scope widened, becoming more of an arts centre and valuable community asset. Numerous groups were encouraged to participate and in-house productions increased. Over 700 students are active each week in some form of performing arts.

Phil has been hugely successful in involving young people. In setting up the Playhouse Theatre School and strengthening links with schools and the college, The Playhouse has increased educational opportunities in the town and social inclusion. Attendance at classes increased five-fold and the vast majority are under 18.

Programmes reflect the excitement of young people and celebrate diversity. It's literally buzzing with activities on weekdays and all day Saturdays. Experiences in both performing and backstage technical skills expanded opportunities to move on to professional careers.

The Playhouse gained a national reputation for quality programmes and, particularly, the very popular pantomimes. Furthermore, even in Government terms, it's in the top quartile of Best Value Performance Indicators.

All these achievements didn't happen by chance. Phil has been an excellent manager, totally committed to The Playhouse, giving up an enormous amount of personal time in writing, directing, producing and acting in numerous productions. His creative energy, vision and integrity helped to harness enthusiastic support of staff, participants and supporters.

The council's loss is Burnt Mill's gain. Good luck with the Phoenix Theatre School, Phil, and thank you. A class act – and a very difficult one to follow!

Civic Centre, Harlow

Frozen, not lost

SIR, A report in the Star (January 24) has caused confusion among a number of residents about the redevelopment of the Maunds Hatch community building in Staple Tye.

The report says that the Maunds Hatch redevelopment scheme has been frozen – leading some residents mistakenly to think that the scheme has been cancelled.

In fact, the report is about a council decision about which schemes would be needing funding between now and April, only three months away. It's quite clear that there won't be any spending on Maunds Hatch in the next three months – not least because there are no plans, no drawings, no lease agreements and no planning permission yet!

Therefore, the money needs to be taken out of this year's budget (up to April) and put into next year's, to be spent between April 2008 and March 2009. The council has also agreed – rightly, in my view – that schemes like Maunds Hatch which have been held over from 2007/08 will have priority for spending in 2008/09.

Door profligacy

SIR, Reading your article Council reins in £2.8m spending, I could not believe that they are to change the revolving doors (at the Civic Centre) at a cost of £19,000 due to the elderly getting stuck on their scooters.

My wife uses an electric wheelchair and has no problem with the doors; even so, they could use the sliding doors around the side of the building, putting up a sign to this effect much cheaper than £19,000.

Press for crossing

SIR, I have just read the letter Dangers At Road Crossing (Letters, January 17) with reference to the pelican crossing across Velizy Avenue.

As ward councillor, I share the concerns of the students. But ever since the college closed the footpath through its site, and the building work on the field for the new leisure centre closed that footpath, foot traffic has been restricted to students only and car park use on a Saturday.

However, with the new leisure centre being built a new crossing is required, and I have just received a letter from Essex Highways outlining proposed changes to the crossing. These will include making it part of a new cycle lane going towards Terminus Street, dropped kerbs and new toucan crossing equipment, which will monitor traffic and pedestrians/cyclists. It will have tactile knurled knobs and audible units. I will write to the relevant department and to the cabinet member responsible, highlighting the existing problems and press to have this proposal implemented.

Tories wrong to 'downplay work of NHS'

HARLOW'S MP has accused local Conservatives of misleading residents regarding local NHS services.

Responding to various recent Tory claims about Princess Alexandra Hospital, MP Bill Rammell has reassured his constituents that NHS services are in good shape.

He believes certain Tory claims are false, including a recent press release suggesting a huge rise in patients from the hospital leaving malnourished.

"Over a series of months, Harlow Conservatives have put out statements at the last minute of questionable authority, giving the local health service a bad name," he said. "I have never claimed the health service is perfect, but it has certainly improved significantly."

"However, Harlow Conservatives and their Parliamentary candidate (Robert Halfon) are deliberately downplaying the excellent job done by our local people working in the health service to score a quick headline."

"They are wasting NHS time and resources in the process."

In response to Mr Rammell's comments, Mr Halfon said: "We weren't misleading anyone as the malnutrition figures came from his own Government's records – he is just deflecting focus from Government failings."

The money is also being used to refurbish in-patient bedrooms, laying new flooring throughout and painting walls and ceilings.

AN extra 15 caravan pitches to house gipsies and travellers are expected to be provided in Harlow by 2011 under controversial proposals.

The East of England Regional Assembly has recommended every local authority in the region should provide at least 15 new pitches within the next four years – meaning Harlow could soon have 49.

The plan aims to help meet a national shortage of pitches and improve the living conditions of travellers.

The recommendations will now be submitted to the secretary of state for communities and local government before being published in late February for three months of public consultation.

Harlow's Conservative prospective Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon reacted with dismay, branding the planned public consultation a sham and claiming the town already had more than its fair share of provision.

"This is another case of the Government wanting to push through legislation without giving residents a real chance to have

By CHRIS MOSS

mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

their say on what is a highly contentious issue," he claimed.

Although the assembly is headed by Tories, Mr Halfon stressed he has never supported the idea of a regional assembly in the first place.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell gave a cautious welcome but said he would still push for other towns in Essex to take more and so ease the burden on Harlow.

"The reason for more legal pitches is to prevent the spread of unauthorised encampments which cause major problems for local residents," he said.

"Historically, Harlow and Epping Forest have provided their fair share while other districts in the county and region have not."

A spokesman for the Irish Traveller Movement In Britain said it hoped discussions and debates on the plans would be balanced.

"More traveller sites are clearly needed – no one can deny that – and this is a win situation for everyone," he said.

● THE plan proposed Epping Forest creates a further 49 pitches, bringing its total up to 143. Essex is due 371 additional pitches.

Brutal sibling loses bid to cut sentence

A HARLOW man who viciously attacked his brother and punched him in the head as he lay unconscious has lost an appeal against his jail sentence.

Alan Pidgeon, of Rundells, admitted affray at Chelmsford Crown Court in March last year and was jailed for two-and-a-half-years, including a year for two earlier counts of assault with actual bodily harm.

His legal team challenged the sentence as 'manifestly excessive' but learned the appeal had failed at London's Court of Appeal last Thursday.

Mr Justice David Clark, with Lord Justice Tuckey and Mr Justice Coulson, said the savage attack could have caused brain damage to Pidgeon's brother Clarry.

Despite being headbutted by his brother, the judges agreed Alan Pidgeon's reaction went way beyond self-defence.

The court heard the brothers had fallen out over an assault nine months previously for which they were both jailed.

Mr Justice Clark said Clarry Pidgeon told his father he was going to "smash Alan's face in".

Alan Pidgeon, however, soon got the better of his brother and knocked him unconscious with a kick to the head.

The two previous ABHs for which Pidgeon was jailed related to an incident in a nightclub, and included the assault over which he and his brother had fallen out.

PAH pleased at recovery figure

RECOVERY time following bowel surgery at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital is the second fastest in the country, figures reveal.

The length of time a patient stays at PAH after stomach operations is 4.16 days below the national average of 11.74 days, according to the Health Service Journal.

PAH medical director Dr Sandra Dimmock said: "We are pleased that we score so well in this important area of work for the trust."

"People often focus on waiting times to receive treatment but proper and appropriate care of the patient following surgery is just as important to ensure that patients can leave hospital and continue their recovery at home.

"Patient feedback shows they prefer to recover in the comfort of their homes."

Thieves strike at allotments

GARDENERS using a Harlow allotment were counting the cost of crime following the theft of thousands of pounds worth of equipment.

Sheds at the Harlow Council-owned allotments at Felmongers were broken into last Wednesday during daylight hours.

Some tenants are unable to continue tending their plots, spurring an appeal for donations of tools and equipment to help them get back to work.

The items were uninsured and in total four lawnmowers, five strimmers, a rotovator, a chainsaw and

By JIM TANFIELD
tanfieldj@hertsessexnews.co.uk

various other tools were stolen.

Tom McIlhargey, manager of the 37-plot site, said on Monday: "It's a real shame as some of the users are old age pensioners and won't be able to work on their allotments."

"They won't have the tools to do their work, so some of the allotments may suffer as a result and their hard work will go to waste."

User David Brown added: "Whoever it was did it during the daytime and really took their time - this equipment cost the users thousands of pounds and will only have a resale value of two or three hundred pounds."

Mr McIlhargey is appealing for petrol-driven equipment and other tools to be donated to the allotment tenants.

The thefts come after dozens of lock-ups were broken into at various locations throughout the town before Christmas, including allotment sheds and garages.

Harlow crime reduction officer Graham Anthony warned people to be on their guard and to report anything suspicious immediately.

● TO donate tools or equipment to the allotment, call (01279) 301040.

Anyone with information about the thefts and break-ins should call Harlow police station on (01279) 641212.

THE millions who died in the Nazi Holocaust were remembered at a special memorial service in Harlow Synagogue.

Harlow Jewish Community held Sunday's event to mark the 63rd anniversary of the liberation of the Auschwitz death camp.

The theme for the day was "Imagine ... remember, reflect, react", inviting those present to remember the past and reflect on the racism and intolerance which pervades society to this day.

Those making contributions included Harlow Council chairwoman Lorna Spenceley, camp survivor Rose Gotley, the Rev Noelle Taylor from St Mary at Latton Church and Rabbi Irit Shillor.

College makes the pass grade

OFFICIAL reports into last year's A-level results have revealed that Harlow College succeeded in hitting the national benchmark for pass rates.

According to achievement tables published last week, the college recorded a pass rate of 97 per cent at grades A-E – a healthy increase of five per cent on the previous year's results.

And success rates – which record the number of pupils successfully completing their A2 courses – jumped up by 11 per cent to 94 per cent.

College principal Colin Hindmarch said: "The progress the college made last year to reach these averages is pleasing. "The college's plans, which it began to put in place last year, are, however not aimed at being average but at achieving excellence.

"Last year was the first step and this year is the second in achieving that excellence for all the college does."

Plates in focus

ESSEX Police is cracking down on the use of illegal number plates with the launch of a county-wide operation this week which will see traffic officers use specialist equipment to track down wrongly registered vehicles.

Schools merger finds favour with parents

Through a glass, artily!

OVER-50s had the chance to create artwork to brighten up empty shop windows.

About 40 people attended the Gibberd Gallery event to help make a 5x2.5m 'Tree Of Life'.

The work, a joint project between Harlow Renaissance and Harlow Council's art department, was created over four days and will hang in a vacant shop front in Westgate.

PLANS to close a struggling junior school in Harlow and have it taken over by a more successful neighbour look likely to go ahead after a meeting of parents showed tacit support.

Purford Green Junior and Infant schools would effectively merge under the proposals, with the junior school officially closing and the infant school taking on its pupils and premises to become a 210-pupil school.

Essex County Council sees the move as a solution to problems at the junior school, which currently has no headteacher and is under an Office for Standards in Education notice to improve.

By contrast, the infant school is considered to be thriving and the plans would see its governing body and headteacher Viv Perry assume responsibility for both sites.

At a meeting for parents last Tuesday, County Hall schools officer Graham Ranby outlined the benefits of the change, which will take effect from January next year if approved.

He said it would overcome the difficulties of recruiting a new head for the small and poorly regarded junior school, bring about a consistent approach to teaching, increase the scope of extra-curricular activities and result

By BEN WILKINSON

wilkinsonb@hertsessexnews.co.uk

in efficiency savings.

And he added that, although previous policy would have been to close both schools in order to establish a new primary, the county council wanted to break with tradition by keeping one of them open. This is to reduce the impact on staff and avoid new Government rules insisting that contracts to run new schools are thrown up to private firms and charitable groups.

During the well-attended meeting, parents asked about the future of the current school buildings and heard in the short term the new primary would continue to operate from the two existing sites but that it would be open to the governors to explore rationalisation options in the future.

Mr Ranby added that redundancies of some support staff were possible but would be avoided if possible.

Concerns were also raised about the merger leading to mixed year groups, but the meeting was told that because the annual intake would be cut from 45 to 30 children, the new school would be guaranteed to have seven separate year group classes.

● THE public consultation ends today (Thursday). A final decision is due by May.

HOSPITAL: NEW HOPE

HOPES have been raised that Harlow's hospital services will be reinstated following a deputation to health minister Kenneth Clarke.

The deputation from the Harlow Hospital Action Committee was led by MP Stan Newens, who told the minister the health authority's cuts were an "over-reaction to an imaginary crisis".

CONFIDENCE AS WORK STARTS ON FACTORIES

COUNCILLOR Bill Gibson, chairman of Harlow Council, cut the first sod at a new factory site in

The ceremony heralded the construction of 15 small factory workshops, ranging from 700 sq ft to nearly 12,000 sq ft, on two vacant sites at Staple Tye Industrial Estate.

COLLEGE 'WILL MAKE CINDERELLAS OF SCHOOLS'

HARLOW'S secondary schools will become the Cinderellas of the education system with the introduction of the town's tertiary college, according to the Harlow Save Our Schools Campaign.

"The college will have all the advantages of expansion, novelty, glamour, official approval and perhaps even extra cash", claimed the campaign's spokesman Paul Chant. But the schools will be "branded as failures by officialdom" and have to go through complex reorganisation at a time of low morale.

Staying sharp in the sixties!

THE closure of menswear store Glanville was one of our topics last month – but while this may have been Harlow's longest-running such shop, it was certainly not alone in serving the town's snappiest dressers.

While larger shops such as Littlewoods and the Co-op department store have already received the Nostalgia nod, there are other clothing retailers of the New Town's past equally deserving of a mention.

In the 1960s, fashions changed almost weekly and the rag trade proved a goldmine for astute businessmen. Among the menswear retailers to spring up in The High were Harry Fenton's, John Walton's and Byrites.

By BEN WILKINSON

But Burnett Park resident Steve Slyth particularly remembers Peter Goodfellows, where he shopped and was employed for three years from 1961, the year it opened under the clock in Market Square. The shop is now Yates Wine Lodge.

"The shop was owned by Anthony 'Sid' Wilson and managed by Joe Hall, of Fold Croft, for many years," recalls Mr Slyth. "I was employed there together with Merv and Alan Jones, Denis O'Leary, Tom Hinge and Stuart Poulton.

"We traded competitively with Eric Glanville's. This was during the swinging sixties and as Goodfellows had branches in Park Lane W1 and Oxford Street, we always considered ourselves to stock the best in fashion.

"The shop was always window-dressed by a leading West End window dresser and we took pride in its appearance."

Mr Slyth adds that among Goodfellows' customers were Ben Hyde Harvey, who ran the Harlow Development Corporation and later had the Harvey Centre named after him, and Peter Davies, manager of the Odeon cinema.

"We would often see Mr Davies because he used to buy a red carnation every day from Interflora next door, on his way to work," he said.

"Another memory from the time is Vinnie's Burger Bar, which set up camp outside Goodfellows and was a popular night-time venue."

● Attempts to track down a picture of Goodfellows have so far proved fruitless. If you can help, please get in touch.

Long sentence for birth of the town

A POSTER from 1946 lands on Nostalgia's desk, courtesy of Upper Park resident Ron Bill.

Headed "Harlow New Town (Designation) Order", it sets out the original post-war development plans.

Prepare for the longest sentence this newspaper has ever carried on its editorial pages: "Notice is hereby given that Mr E. Fitzgibbon will hold a Public Local Inquiry in the Drill Hall, Old Road, Harlow, commencing on Tuesday 10th December, 1946, at 10.30am, with respect to an Order which the Minister of Town and Country Planning proposes to make under section 1 of the New Town Act 1946, designating as the site of a New Town an area of land comprising approximately 6,714 acres situated in the Urban District of Sawbridgeworth, the Rural District of Epping, and the Rural District of Ware, which land is shown on the map which was deposited with a copy of the Draft Order at the WVS office, High Street, Harlow; at the offices of the Epping Rural District Council, 209 High Street, Epping; and at the Ministry of Town and Country Planning, 32 St James's Square, SW1."

Now breathe in. It's a good job they were better at building towns than they were at using full stops ... well, slightly better anyway!

EU poll will give town treaty vote

HARLOW is poised to become a testing ground over the UK's future in the European Union.

Eurosceptic group East of England For A Referendum hopes its landmark vote on Britain's membership of the EU will pressurise Gordon Brown into holding the national referendum he promised in 2005.

Every household in the district will be sent an "impartial" information pack on the constitution comprising arguments from both sides, a ballot paper and a freepost envelope.

Electoral Reform Services will oversee the poll to ensure it is conducted professionally.

The vote next month will form part of a first wave of referendums in a selected number of constituencies throughout the country.

Funding for the ballot was secured by Harlow Conservative prospective Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon and a fundraising drive by Colleen Morrison.

Mr Halfon said everyone in the constituency deserved a say on Europe and criticised Harlow MP Bill Rammell and the Government for reneging on their promises of a referendum at the last election.

"The EU constitution will fundamentally affect our rights and have massive implications on how we deal with asylum crime and a host of other areas," he said.

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

"This is simply a question of democracy. I am glad that we have managed to raise enough money to give the people of Harlow a chance to have their say and I hope Harlow's views will apply pressure on Gordon Brown to hold the national referendum he promised."

Richard Howitt, Euro MP for Harlow, dismissed it as a "crackpot scheme" orchestrated by "extreme, right-wing Eurosceptics" and said it would be neither fair nor independent.

"I seriously doubt that anyone will even bother returning their vote - this is a phenomenal waste of time and money," he said.

Mr Rammell said very few of his constituents have raised concerns about the EU Treaty and felt the ballot was an "obsessive vendetta" against the EU by the Tories.

"I do not support a referendum on this issue as this is not a major constitutional change," he said. "The fact that Harlow Conservatives are supporting this ballot, a party financed by at least one millionaire donor who last year was talking of supporting UKIP, shows just how extreme Harlow Conservatives are."

Glasses raised to Gateway progress

KEY players in the Harlow Gateway Partnership celebrated the success of the project at a special conference. Scores of people visited Harlow Town FC's new stadium - itself delivered through the scheme - on Friday to hear how the £50m plan to regenerate housing, sports and leisure facilities was progressing and those projects which have already been successfully completed. Pictured, left to right, are Mike Evans of English Partnerships, Harlow Sports Trust chief executive Tonia Gosling, MP Bill Rammell, Harlow Council joint leader Tony Durcan, council chief executive Malcolm Morley, council joint leader Chris Millington and Harlow Town FC vice-chairman Simon Morgan.

Indonesian taskforce on a mission to work

YOUNG adults from Indonesia are set to arrive in March, bringing with them more than 6,000 hours of voluntary service to Harlow and the surrounding area.

The 18-strong team aged 18-25 are travelling to the UK as part of the international exchange scheme Global Xchange and will work with various community projects in the town, as well as in Bishop's Stortford.

Causes set to benefit during the three-month programme include youth groups, disability organisations and homeless centres, with charities invited to suggest projects on which the visitors can work.

The volunteers will then use the skills they have learnt when they return home to spend three months working on similar projects in West Sumatra.

The visit follows a similar exchange last year and programme supervisor Phil Hanks said he is hoping the response from residents will be as positive as before.

"Global Xchange simply can't happen without the enthusiasm and support of local people who help give our youth volunteers a real insight into how communities work," he said. "I hope even more local residents and community projects will benefit from this year's exchange with Indonesia. It is a fantastic opportunity for young people from across the world to learn more about each other as well as contribute positively to communities."

Organisers are now looking for locals groups to suggest new volunteering opportunities for the visitors, and appealing for residents who are prepared to host a volunteer in their home.

Third Age debut is a huge success

HARLOW'S new branch of the University Of The Third Age group for active retired people got off to a flying start at its inaugural meeting. About 200 people attended last Monday's gathering at the Great Parndon Community Association, in Abercrombie Way – such a large number that some had to be turned away for safety reasons.

Among those attending were representatives of the U3A's head office and its Epping branch. Those attending were asked to fill in questionnaires to establish which special interest groups they would be interested in forming.

Organiser Ann Flint said: "It was a very positive start – there were so many people that the venue was too small to accommodate everyone."

Another meeting takes place on February 25 at 11am, at the GPCA Link club, in Parsloe Road. For details, call Mrs Flint on (01279) 414785.

Chlamydia tests

SCREENING for the sexually transmitted disease chlamydia is being offered to everyone aged 15-25 in Harlow and Epping.

West Essex Primary Care Trust is holding the sessions in a bid to stem the spread of the infection, thought to affect as many as one in 10 people within the age group.

The condition can affect anyone who is sexually active, regardless of their gender or sexuality, and if left untreated can cause painful complications and infertility. However, early symptoms are often difficult to spot.

The sessions are free and there is no need to book. They are held tomorrow (Friday) from 8-9.30pm, at The Square, in Fourth Avenue, Harlow, and on February 18 from 7-9pm, at the Experience Centre, Broadly Road, Harlow. Advice is also available via the website www.westessexpct.nhs.uk

Currently these courses are exclusive to Essex ACL in the Harlow area and demand is expected to be high.

For details, call (01279) 436230.

Mountain high

INTREPID hikers are required to take part in a challenge to climb Ben Nevis, Britain's highest peak, in aid of the breast cancer unit at Epping's St Margaret's Hospital.

Lesa Spooner is once again organising the sponsored charity stunt, taking place from May 9-11. For details, call (01279) 863155.

Garden of delight

SNOWDROPS should be out in all their splendour when The Gibberd Garden opens for the next two Sundays. Home-made soup, cakes and other refreshments will also be on sale at the Marsh Lane attraction from 11.30am-4pm.

Called to account Volunteer appeal

MATURE learners having difficulty finding professional accounting courses in Harlow can benefit from new Essex Adult Community Learning lessons.

In February, a full range of Association of Accounting Technicians courses at foundation, intermediate and technician levels will be launched.

A SCHEME helping handicapped people get involved in activities within their local community is seeking new volunteers.

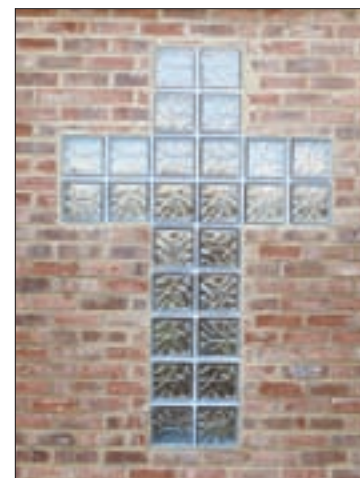

The Independent Visitors Scheme helps promotes the involvement of the disabled in college courses, social groups, voluntary work and employment. For details, call Angie Joy on (01245) 392310.

Blood donations

BLOOD donations can be given at the Latton Bush Centre, in Southern Way, Harlow, next Thursday from 2-4pm and 5-7.45pm.

Holy celebration

A HARLOW church has begun its 40th anniversary year with the dedication of a new window.

St James With St Luke Church, in Staple Tye, which opened in November 1968 as St James', is planning a year of celebrations. Former vicar Chris Burton returned on Sunday to dedicate the new window, a cross rendered in glass bricks.

WELCOME TO SCHOOLBAG

This week, children at ST NICHOLAS travelled back in time to the days of the Roman empire; there was a history lesson of a far more sobering kind when a Holocaust survivor visited MARK HALL; youngsters at CHURCHGATE STREET PRIMARY flexed their creative muscles to build a willow dome; and two nurseries threw a metaphorical shrimp on the barbie for a former colony.

It's history time, wherever they chance to Rome

ST NICHOLAS: It was toga'd to be true when the Old Harlow school held a Roman Day.

Pupils got into the spirit of the first century invaders and dressed up complete with helmets to find out just what it was the Romans had ever done for us.

They learnt about the vast size of the empire which stretched from England to Africa, were taught about the brave gladiators who died in the arena and of the society's many gods and goddesses.

A spokeswoman for the school said: "The Romans were so fascinating it's difficult for children not to get engaged with how they used to live."

"By immersing them in the subject they also get a real feel for how it was to live as a Roman."

AUSTRALIA Day was a g'day as little Bruces and Sheilas got to grips with life and culture Down Under.

Two Harlow nurseries marked the occasion of the British fleet landing in the country 220 years ago.

Children at KIDDI CARU, in Kiln Lane, and LEAPFROG DAY NURSERY, in Greenways Business Park, learnt about Australia's wildlife, inhabitants and lifestyles.

MARK HALL: The horrors of the Holocaust were detailed when a survivor of the Nazi death camps of the Second World War visited the First Avenue school.

Harry Bibring visited to teach the children that if people are allowed to forget the terrible events of the past, then they may happen again.

Mr Bibring also outlined the history behind Nazi leader Adolph Hitler's hatred for Jews.

A spokeswoman for the school said: "It was moving and amazing to hear these stories first-hand."

"It is often difficult for children to really accept the kind of terrible things which have happened in the past, and so close to home. Hearing Mr Bibring really made them sit up and pay attention."

Our own pleasure dome!

CHURCHGATE STREET PRIMARY: Children at the school were branching out into arboriculture when they created a playing field installation.

A dome made from willow was constructed by planting branches which continue to grow after cutting. The leaves will grow back and create a

Teen's underpass escape from knife threat duo

A TEENAGE boy narrowly escaped being robbed at knifepoint in a Harlow underpass when two men attempted to steal his mobile phone.

The 17-year-old was listening to music on his mobile as he walked along the cycle path leading to Third Avenue when he was approached by the two men in the ASDA underpass at 3.40pm last Wednesday.

One brandished a Stanley knife and made reference to the boy's phone, but the victim managed to run off before anything was taken from him.

The man with the knife was aged 18-20, 6ft (1.83m) tall, of mixed race and slim to medium build. He was wearing a grey, zipped-up hooded top with pockets and a logo on the right side of the chest and may have been wearing grey tracksuit bottoms.

The other man is described as aged 18-20, 5ft 8in (1.73M) tall, of mixed race and medium build. He had short black hair, black facial hair and a 3cm diagonal scar on his right cheek. He was wearing a black jacket with white writing across the chest.

Anyone with any information about the incident should call Harlow CID on (01279) 641016 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Pulling the plug on our energy use

THE amount of energy we use in our living rooms is increasing because of our obsession with the latest technology, according to a new report.

Must-have electrical equipment like flat-screen televisions, computer games consoles, DVD players and hi-fis are blamed for an increase in the size of a household's carbon footprint.

This is the name given to the amount of energy we use. The smaller it is, the better for the environment.

Research also warns that the carbon footprints of our front rooms are set to rise even further in the future as more and more power-sapping devices fill the shelves of our stores.

Years ago families usually owned just one small TV set. Now, most own at least two and often surround them with other gadgets while the sets themselves are getting bigger and more power-hungry.

As screen sizes increase and different types of TV become available, more electricity is being used up compared to the old-fashioned devices. Big plasma screens are especially high on energy consumption.

But some manufacturers have already started to tackle the problem by using new types of screen to produce more energy-efficient sets.

And TV firms hope that special technology already used in some new mobile phone screens could be developed to make their products even more efficient.

Big shopping spree bucks national trend

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW has bucked the national Christmas shopping trend for faltering retail sales by recording an impressive 25 per cent increase in footfall in the past two years.

One of two independent surveys undertaken in the town during December showed a remarkable upturn in the number of people pouring into the shopping centres in the run-up to the festive season.

With 30 different counting points throughout the town, the comprehensive survey showed footfall in the Harvey Centre just topped counts at the Water Gardens, Harvey Centre Approach and Broad Walk.

The second count, conducted by the Harvey Centre itself, confirmed the growth, recording a two-year improvement in the December figures of just under 27 per cent.

The shopping centre welcomed almost 1.5 million shoppers through its doors in the four weeks before Christmas – culminating in a one-week record of 435,609 visits.

"We experienced a steady build-up of footfall prior to Christmas," said centre manager Bryan Young. "The week directly before Christmas is always the busiest week of the year, but we recorded impressive figures throughout December."

Car park usage at the Harvey Centre and the Water Gardens was also up, while retail sales themselves defied bleak forecasts from the experts.

Beryl Murphy, centre manager of The Water Gardens, confirmed after receiving positive feedback from her retailers that the council-funded complex "continues to be a successful and popular shopping destination".

She added: "Recent research suggests that The Water Gardens has also been successful at broadening its customer base across its catchment area by appealing to a wider spectrum of customers."

New town centre development manager Richard Dennery added: "These reports compare extremely well with the national scene."

"According to the British Retail Consortium, it was the worst December for retail sales since 2004, with a year-on-year increase of just 0.3 per cent, and a three month trend rate growth of just 0.8 per cent."

Richard has a lot of ideas to boost Harlow

AN award-winning town centre manager has vowed to revitalise Harlow following his appointment by development organisation Renaissance.

Richard Dennery, pictured above, has joined the team spearheading the regeneration of the town following considerable success in similar roles in Gloucester and Chippenham.

In 2004, he was named UK Town Centre Manager of the Year and also scooped a gold award for his imaginative use of media relations in 2005/06.

Originally from New Orleans, Mr Dennery worked as an investigative journalist and held several posts as a public relations professional before moving to England 20 years ago to set up his own PR firm near Bristol.

During his tenure as director of the Central Gloucester Initiative, he founded the city's annual International Rhythm and Blues Festival – still going strong in its eighth year – and hopes to have a similarly lasting impact on Harlow.

"I look forward to working with businesses in Harlow and the public sector to revitalise the town centre with activities, colour, buzz and partnership working alongside the proposed physical redevelopment, as well as helping in the process of marketing and re-branding Harlow itself," he said.

There's no need to ask the price at It's a Pound!

HARLOW's newest store has just opened its doors at 24 Broad Walk. The shop is called It's A Pound and has been trading in Harlow for the past four years as While Stocks Last.

"Over the past 18 months, we had noticed that a large proportion of our business was made up from products that sell for £1," explained company director, Dale McKay.

"Towards the latter part of 2007, we tested our theory and the results were encouraging, especially over the Christmas period.

"From then, we decided to change the name of the store, which was simple, as when asked for the price of various new ranges, the reply was always 'It's a pound!'" added Dale.

Most of It's A Pound's stock is clearance or liquidated stock, usually from major companies, so there is always variation.

"You never know what we are going to be selling next," said Dale. "For instance, last year, we cleared a company which sold high quality gifts and the remainder of that stock is now being sold through us. Most of the stock items are well-known brand names. We do like to sell quality and our regular customers appreciate that."

The change in the store has meant that some of the lines previously on sale are no longer available, although the While Stocks Last stores in Hatfield and Walton on the Naze will still be trading with the full ranges.

Every time you call into Harlow town centre, it's always worth calling in to It's A Pound. You never know what you may find!

Friendly staff will always make you welcome and you can rest assured, if you want to know the cost of any item, the answer is always the same – "It's a pound!"

Basil Brush® © 2007 I Owen/P Firmin/Entertainment Rights PLC

SHIVER me timbers, here's your chance to meet the one and only Basil Brush face-to-fuzzy-face before his show Basil Of The Caribbean at Harlow Playhouse.

The Star, in association with The Playhouse theatre, is offering one lucky winner a family ticket (four tickets) to see Basil Of The Caribbean on Saturday, February 9 at either the 2.30pm or 7.30pm performance.

And before settling down to watch the show you will also get the chance to meet the star of the show in the fur!

Climb aboard the HMS Boom-Boom for a boombastic swashbuckling adventure! It's been more than 1,000 years since evil pirate Captain Jack Black-Hat stole the legendary Golden Jelly Baby ... and his watery ghost is making sure nobody will ever find it! But look out – here comes Captain Basil and his fearless crew! Shipwrecks, storms, pirates, ancient gods and cannibals all meet our foxy hero on his amazing voyage across the Seven Seas. Anything can happen ... and probably will!

One thing is for sure – there'll be heaps of laughs, music and audience participation for Basil fans of all ages. Basil is joined by an all-star supporting cast including The Crazy Crew (aka The Hungarian State Circus), award-winning TV comedian Tucker as Skipper To-Da-Loo and Cheeky Monkey and the Jungle Rockers.

This year's must-see treat for Basil fans old and new, Basil Of The Caribbean promises to be a great giggle for all the family. Boom Boom!

To stand a chance of winning this great prize, all you have to do is answer the simple question in the coupon and follow the entry instruction.

The runner-up will win a copy of Basil's latest DVD Basil Brush: Unleashed (certificate U), while the third prizewinner will win a limited edition collectable Basil key ring.

● Tickets for Basil Of The Caribbean cost £12 (£10 concessions) and available from the theatre box office on (01279) 431945.

WIN tickets to the Ideal Home Show

THIS year is a very special one for the Daily Mail Ideal Home Show as it marks a centenary of iconic home innovation.

We have teamed up with organisers of the show at Earls Court, London, to offer Star readers the chance to win one of 10 pairs of tickets each to celebrate 100 years of inspirational ideas for the home and garden.

To mark its milestone birthday, the show – which kicks off on March 14 and runs until April 6 – will feature a Dream House and Guest House, the Ultimate Eco House, a Century Street retrospective, a nationwide search for the Home Invention of the Year, a light bulb amnesty and much more.

The UK's best-loved home show brings an amazing collection of home inspiration under one roof and has always been the place to find the latest in home innovation.

Over the last 100 years, it has been the launchpad for countless household must-haves, including the toaster and electric kettle (1920), the electric grass mower (1970), the microwave (1947) and the largest home plasma screen (2006). The show also unveiled the first 'energy-efficient kitchen' in 1989.

Each year, full-sized houses and even whole streets have been built inside Earls Court, and the 2008 celebrations will be no different.

The Dream Home and Guest House is a stunning example of how the other half live, with every room containing a wow factor.

The Ultimate Eco House is an eye-catching and pragmatic solution to the problems of the future of housing.

A nationwide search for the Home Invention of the Year is challenging people of all ages and abilities to come up with ingenious solutions to everyday household frustrations or bug-bears. The top ten will be voted on by visitors to the show and website.

To mark the Ideal Home Show's commitment to environmental issues, there will be a light bulb amnesty. All visitors who bring an old light bulb can exchange it

Sublime Spoonface was a little piece of Heaven

REVIEW

SPOONFACE STEINBERG

Playhouse Theatre Company
The Playhouse Studio, Harlow

"I WANT to be like one of those opera ladies what are good at dying," says the eight-year-old terminally ill and autistic Spoonface.

'Oh dear,' you're thinking, 'Oh deary me, no, no, no – that doesn't sound like something I'd like to see at all; there's too much suffering on the news already.'

"Let's stay at home and watch Gareth Gates ice-skating instead." Well, you're gloriously wrong. This is very special indeed.

Taken from a series of plays by Lee Hall, this hour-long Michael Fentiman-directed soliloquy charts the thoughts of Spoonface, played by the exquisitely talented Zoe Thorne who, despite being in her 20s, has magically transformed herself into a child.

Through her bittersweet song of innocence we learn what her autism means, how she is affected by her parents' booze-fuelled separation and how she is not afraid of cancer and death.

She cries when her face is washed but doesn't shed a tear when talking about dying.

And it is Spoonface's deadpan philosophising on mortality which really pulls this play into the realm of genius; her uncomplicated answers to the biggest questions – at times delivered while she organises Sugar Puffs into ascending size order!

To a Puccini soundscape, Thorne intricately dips in and out of Spoonface's religious theories

Alberni Quarter back with fine music

DESCRIBED by The New York Times as one of the finest musical ensembles of its kind in the world, the Alberni Quartet is coming to town.

Appearing Saturday week at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre, off Market Street, Old Harlow, the quartet is performing in honour of friend and mentor Derek Pool.

Mozart's A major, Schubert's Quartettsatz and Beethoven's E flat Opus 127 can all be enjoyed from 8pm.

As a special treat, Harlow-born composer Sophie Viney's A Time To Dance will be played and the composer is hosting a seminar afterwards.

The group is also playing at the venue on March 15, and again on April 5.

Tickets are priced £12 on the door or £10 in advance, from (01279) 442447.

including Judaism, nihilism and beautifully concludes with 'we are all one' and therefore live on within each other and the world around us.

The audience is told how the 'sparkle' in us all becomes part of the fabric of the universe after our inevitable demise – the warmth in the audience's hearts was astonishingly palpable.

This is the last Playhouse Theatre Company performance, and how fitting a swansong; sweet, subtle, funny and moving.

This is so much more than just theatre; more than just sublime direction, production and acting – it's a little piece of Heaven.

Jim Tanfield

● SPOONFACE continues daily until Saturday, with shows at 1.30pm and 7.45pm; tickets cost £10 (£8 concs/£6 schools) from (01279) 431945.

Wild and weird but not so very horrific

IF Victorian freak shows are your thing, this wealth of freakish and talented performers engaging in an array of off-the-wall acts was right up your street.

Not a mega-bucks production and the set was minimal but, despite this, the weird props and gothic accoutrement did well to transport the audience through the fourth wall of an asylum complete with performing inmates.

With loud music, singing and a smattering of stomach-turning sideshows – including a midget eating light bulbs and a woman nailing her tongue to a table – the show had its audience squirming for some of the time.

The rest of it was spent listening to naïf dated rock songs with tongue in cheek – deliberately so, I think – and staring in awe at the brilliant dancers and gymnasts who many would pay to watch in productions of their own.

The energetic performance was engaging and entertained from start to finish; but, that said, it wasn't as horrific as some press cuttings might suggest and somehow left me feeling a little short-changed.

The beast is unleashed to devastate New York

FINALLY hitting the big screen on the back of one of the most frustratingly enigmatic marketing campaigns in cinematic history, this is the monster movie that everyone hoped Godzilla would be.

But where Roland Emmerich's impossibly expensive film flopped under the weight of its own hype, Matthew Reeves' innovative horror gem Cloverfield looks set to revitalise the ailing genre for the YouTube generation.

Largely shot on point-of-view hand-held cameras, this is a veritable synthesis of three cultural touchstones – The Blair Witch Project, 9/11 and an obsession with Japanese horror, which collide to create something that feels completely unique yet harrowingly familiar.

With no musical score or narration to speak of, the film eerily opens with a couple of lines from the US Department of Defence claiming the footage which follows was discovered in the area "formerly known as Central Park" before shifting focus to a glitzy party in a Manhattan apartment.

On the eve of his departure for Japan, Rob (Michael Stahl-David) sees his farewell bash as a Last Chance Saloon to confess his unresolved love for Beth (Odette Yustman) and tie up loose ends.

But his secret agenda takes an unexpected turn

CLOVERFIELD

certificate 15, running time 1h25m

when an enormous jolt shakes the revellers, who quieten down to watch news reports of an earthquake before rushing to the roof to assess the damage.

And when a fireball explodes on the distant horizon and decapitates the Statue of Liberty, sending its head crashing onto the streets below, confusion understandably gives way to panic.

As they stumble through a power blackout and out into the streets, Rob and his chums are confronted by the otherworldly roar of an unknown behemoth wreaking havoc on unsuspecting New Yorkers, and spend the rest of the movie doing all they can to avoid getting squashed while catching it all on camera.

With a cast of relative unknowns and a director with only one film – the dreary Pallbearer – under his belt, this shouldn't work, but its sheer, breakneck pace and heart-stopping immediacy – not to mention Reeves' seemingly boundless capacity for creating intolerable suspense armed with little more than a digital camcorder – make this an irresistible proposition to even the most cynical cineaste.

BITING THE BIG APPLE:

There's panic in the streets as New York comes under attack from a gigantic creature in CLOVERFIELD (S)

It's a bird, it's a plane – it's a dog that flies!

UNDERDOG

certificate U, running time 1h22m

DISNEY'S latest feelgood, triumph-against-all-the-odds comedy will provide plenty of laughs for dog-loving families who have always wondered what their canine pals get up to in their spare time.

When a bomb-sniffing beagle is fired from the mayor's office for a mistake while on duty, he's dognapped by a mad scientist and injected with an elixir.

The dog manages to escape, but soon realises he has superpowers including the ability to fly – and – helpfully, for the audience – to talk.

Homeless and hungry, he's soon adopted by a security guard – a widowed ex-cop with a moody teen son, Jack – who discovers that the dog, named Shoeshine, has special abilities but agrees to keep it their little secret.

A Superman with a tail, Underdog flies around saving the usual gallery of people in distress, but the mad scientist and his evil assistant hatch a devious plot to catch him and take over the city.

Penny's curse to find a lover

PENELOPE

certificate U, running time 1h29m

CHRISTINA Ricci plays the eponymous heroine, born under a curse that can only be broken if she finds true and lasting love.

It's an interesting riff on the classic rites-of-passage tale about a girl desperate to live life on her own terms and break free of the over-watchful eyes of her wealthy socialite parents.

When a down-on-his-luck gambler (James McAvoy) agrees to pose as a potential suitor to help expose the family secret for a tabloid newspaper, Penelope sees her escape route – but will she ever learn to accept herself?

sound check with Chris Moss

For those who thought ambient, psychedelic drone rock quietly passed away with the demise of Spacemen 3, My Bloody Valentine et al sometime during the emergence of Britpop in the early 90s, think again.

With the likes of Sigur Ros producing expansive works of glacial beauty, and the sex-and-death psychedelics of California's Wooden Shjips and Comets On Fire heralding a new era of lysergic-tinged paranoia, it's heartening to hear a local band take a similarly bold route into the heart of darkness.

This is soaring post-rock perfection: sprawling, raw and vital, executed with precise timing and shape-shifting sonic invention, which elaborates on the genre's classic quiet/loud formula with palpable suspense and an intense vocal presence throughout.

With limited edition EP Tallulah under their belts already, the experimental five-piece plan to spend most of early 2008 writing new material for a summer release and hypnotising local audiences – look out for them on the Kids In The Riot bill at Club Quattro, in The Rows, on March 21.

MEET THE EELS

Essential Eels: Volume 1– 1996-2006. (album, Universal)

The first best-of CD with a bonus of brilliant B-sides, this is everything you'd expect from an album spanning the first decade of the band's brilliant career. With their unmistakable sound and heavyweight lyrics, the track listing takes you on a journey from one musical masterpiece to another, starting with early work such as the acclaimed debut Beautiful Freak. Including a DVD of their best performances, this is one every Eels fan should rush to buy.

ISCARIOT THE LADDER

Lupen Crook And The Murderbirds (album, Tap'n'Tin)

With all the charm of a schizophrenic ringmaster at a Victorian freak show, nightmarish folk fiend Lupen Crook swoops on an unsuspecting public to ruffle a few feathers with his inimitable brand of gothic cabaret. Poignant and macabre in equal measure, the album's impossible synthesis of Tom Waits-esque minimalism and melodramatic, shrill-voiced hysteria somehow works, although backing band The Murderbirds occasionally slip into MOR pub-rock cruise control and threaten to undermine their tortured frontman's

THAT'S HOW PEOPLE GROW UP

Morrissey (single, Decca)

This is going to tug at the old heartstrings a little, a bit like ripping the head off a childhood teddy bear or shooting a puppy in the face. But despite years of loving everything this mercurial genius has done, both solo and with The Smiths, this is truly disappointing. Think back to the brilliant verse/chorus combos of Some Girls Are Bigger Than Others and Every Day Is Like Sunday; the sparkle from those halcyon days is gone as this is not in any way original. Perhaps it's time for another holiday away from the industry?

I COULD LOVE YOU

Alice and the Majesty (single, Sunday Best)

This is aimed at the kind of girl who loves wearing stripy woollen tights and pink bowler boots – off the wall, quirky and a little bit hippy. The guitar is nice, but while the track never really heads off into bliss, it's a valiant effort from a woman who can see lady rockers don't all have to rely on PJ Harvey comparisons.

Paul Newman reviews a selection of the latest releases on DVD

Another hard day's night in Russia

DAY WATCH
(20th Century Fox Home Entertainment, 15, retail & rental)

Feast your eyes and strain your brain with this sequel to the Russian fantasy hit Night Watch that's every bit as visually flashy and unnecessarily confusing as its predecessor.

It's probably a good idea to view the original again directly before tackling this ongoing saga, although the plot still likes to tie itself in gleefully random knots.

The ages-old truce between the forces of good and evil is under threat once more in Moscow as Day Watch agent Anton attempts to save his son from seduction by the dark side, a quest hampered when he's apparently framed for a series of murders of prominent Dark Others.

Further complicating matters is the struggle of the parties to lay their hands on the preposterously named Chalk Of Destiny, with which the future (or is the past or present?) can be rewritten.

Director Timur Bekmambetov is far more interested in marshalling big set-piece stunts and effects sequences to a throbbing metal soundtrack, all of which makes it feel a bit like one huge music video compilation of bits from other films, with cars roaring along the sides of buildings for no reason other than it looks cool, flying spheres turning all in their path into colanders and road chases casually defying all laws of physics.

Star rating: ★★

FLAVIA, THE HERETIC
(Shameless, 18, retail)

To count Gianfranco Mingozza's notorious 1974 film (here completely uncut) among the nunsplotation sub-genre's usual sacrilegious Sapphic fumbblings is understandable but also something of an injustice to a gripping piece of historical film-making.

Condemned to a 16th century convent by her brutal and oppressive father, Flavia (Florinda Bolkan) leads an unexceptional life (well, beyond the odd fantasy about St George) until the place is invaded by a roving tarantula cult, their frenzied ecstasies inciting one of the sisters to fall under their libidinous spell.

But when the poor sufferer is taken off to be tortured to death, something snaps inside dutiful Flavia and she begins to question the very nature of the male hierarchy that keeps women confined in such an unnatural way, her struggle for understanding opening her eyes to the quiet madness of many of her fellow sisters masquerading as deep devotion.

Fleeing with a friendly and protective Jewish scribe, she is caught and beaten at her father's behest, so consolidating her desire for freedom and revenge – both of which come in the form of an invading force of Muslim warriors led by Ahmed (Hammer protégé Anthony Corlan, before he reverted to Anthony Higgins and starred in The Draughtsman's Contract).

Allowing herself to be seduced by him, Flavia takes up the sword and dons armour like some inverted Joan of Arc to lead a savage attack on the convent and destroy her male oppressors in a welter of gore.

Be warned that there are some pretty extreme moments of violence more typically at home in a video nasty, but look around and beyond that and you've got a handsomely mounted, beautiful-looking and absorbing slice of historical savagery with a strong feminist sub-text – certainly a thousand miles away from the usual diet of softcore naughty nuns you might have anticipated, and all the better for it.

INGMAR BERGMAN'S THE FAITH TRILOGY
(Tartan Video, 15, retail)

Ingmar Bergman made his Faith Trilogy between 1961-63 as a tool with which to examine the nature of faith itself and of Man's spiritual relationship with his fellows and with God, resulting in three films of a bleak but harrowing beauty.

Through A Glass Darkly (1961) is a sombre study of mental disintegration as Karin (the hypnotic Harriet Andersson) returns home to Farö from electro-shock treatment and now apparently stabilised.

As it becomes apparent she is fast unravelling, Bergman masterfully invokes her plight while looking at the impact it has on those around her, namely her husband (Max Von Sydow), remote father and insecure younger brother.

In an effective touch reminiscent of Poe's The Fall Of The House Of Usher (itself a tale of mental disintegration in a dysfunctional family), the aural acuity Karin experiences is inflicted on the viewer, the greatly amplified and distorted world of sound she inhabits realised to most unsettling effect.

Winter Light (1962) is a more simple and direct story of faith under pressure as a local priest undergoing a spiritual crisis due to "God's silence" has his beliefs left in shreds by his inability to bring comfort to a suicidal parishioner (Von Sydow) who sees no purpose in living in a world in which nuclear death may fall from the skies at any moment.

The Silence (1963) is by far the most despairing and, in some respects, least cerebral of the three films, with two sisters torn apart by their differing needs to fulfil their deepest desires, their conflicting natures and estrangement viewed through the eyes of the son of the youngest. By no means an easy film to watch, it's also noteworthy for a frank sexuality that was fairly strong in its day.

MANHATTAN BABY
(Shameless, 18, retail)

Lucio (Zombie Flesh Eaters) Fulci's supernatural film is described with refreshing candour on the back of the sleeve: "... we're still struggling to understand what the hell goes on in this movie!"

Fair enough, because plotting was never one of the Italian gore-meister's strongest suits and here it's as if he can't really be bothered at all, starting with a young girl and her father inexplicably encountering some sort of evil spirit in Egypt and inadvertently taking it home with them to Manhattan.

Once in the Big Apple, it seems happy enough to start randomly killing people in all sorts of inventive ways, invoking cobras to give them a bloody peck on the cheek, turning them into a room full of sand and dropping them down an elevator shaft.

A bit half-hearted, too willing to rip off The Exorcist and often far too uneventful, Manhattan Baby is more entertaining than you might expect, helped out significantly by Guglielmo Mancor's classy photography, some quality music from Fabio Frizzi (which sounds suspiciously recycled from Fulci's zombie epic The Beyond, made just the year before) and several schlocky effects sequences.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
 The week is characterised by astral conjunctions. No, this is not a painful medical condition, but where planets sit side-by-side. Good news is possible at the start of the week concerning professional hopes, a time when your faith in human nature could be restored. Alternatively, a friendship can leave you with doubts. Talk it through. Call to hear why future plans are key.

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
 This can be a week with a shaft of goodness shining through
 it. Ok, it won't be perfect, for what is, there will be those inevitable bumpy bits, but the potential is there for you to soak up or create something very special. This could be the sweetness of your partner, the cheeky charm of your kids, or if you're single the sultry vibes of someone new.
 Call to hear why dreams
 can come true.

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
 If you can get away for a trip, do it. If this means taking a day out of your holiday, or delegating childcare, why not? Changing your environs can be good for your soul. You can find yourself interacting with other people and being stirred by fresh faces.
 Work may have been draining you of late, but by the week's end, clarity will emerge. Call to hear why a Capricorn can intrigue you.

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22 Family life can be blessed or it can get bogged down in misunderstandings.
 Watch you don't chase shadows. You could feel you've been wronged
 when in fact you have got your facts all wrong.
 General confusion about your emotional life is possible. Just be aware that you can be more susceptible to negative thoughts or to folk who carry sadness. Call me now for the inside track.

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
 If there is someone you have the hots
 for Gemini, don't ask yourself "is it just my imagination running away" take steps to make things happen. Not only can you be persuasive
 you can be charming, and most of all you are set to emanate an enticing, spicy vibe. Neither Cancerians or Capricorns are a natural match, but both can intrigue. Call to pull cash luck your way.

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
 Take that course.
 Contact that expert.
 Sign that deal. There can also be good news concerning a couple you're fond of. An engagement or marriage can be announced, or a couple may set up home.
 This is a week when you can gain from talking to as many people as possible, but don't believe everything you hear! Call to hear why short trips can figure now.

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
 Money matters can be confusing as the week begins, or you can feel that someone's not telling you the full story in a close relationship. You need to listen to your hunches but may find it hard to do this, simply because you could feel overloaded by psychic energy. Trust is a precious commodity, focus on where you feel this exists most of all. Call to hear how to untangle a property delay.

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
 If you're owed money, be wary.
 You could be spun a tale.
 If you owe cash yourself,
 make contact and try to arrange a payment schedule. Even if this is less than you should be paying it will create goodwill that you've made the effort. In love, a brand new start is possible, but if a tie is ailing, you'll be more assertive about what you want. Call me if you have a love choice to make.

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23 Feedback can either delight or baffle. Generally relationships offer a lot of encouragement. It just may mean that some of the people you're drawn to may not play a long-term role. However, one friend is set to really inspire you. You could find yourself doing something sporty together. Visiting the gym can spur each of you on to get fitter. Call to hear why movies can be key.

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19 Even though some people around you have seemed a drain on
 you or your enthusiasm,
 be determined to break
 the hold they have had.
 And anyway, a discreet hint can come to you that gives you great encouragement. By the end of the week,
 something you have rehearsed can start to edge forwards. Ignore the doubters Aquarius and press ahead. Call me now for more on this

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
 Modern society can be a grubby grabbing place, or at least that's what we are told.
 And you can find yourself doing a good deed this week, or showing initiative at work, which makes a boss sit up and take notice. However, they may still not tell you. Find motivation from doing a good job well. Call to ward off someone who takes you for granted.

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20 Friendships are a strange area for you this week Pisces. Someone can be an absolute boost, while another person that you rely upon, could turn out to be a pal of the fairweather variety. But family support can remain strong.
 An old memento or document can hold much sentimental goodness or be worth a surprising amount. Call for more on a complex vibe.

The Organisation

The Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust based in Harlow, Essex is a progressive and ambitious acute organisation currently seeking Foundation Trust status.

This role offers an exciting opportunity for the right candidate to join our Finance team and the chance to work in a stimulating and challenging environment.

The Job

You will assist a Finance Manager in delivering an holistic approach to service performance to pre-defined areas of the Trust. This will include the production of monthly and yearly budgetary information to a variety of managers and staff within the Trust. This will involve close liaison with multi-disciplinary teams within the Trust, so you will need to be a good communicator, capable of presenting financial and non financial information in a clear and concise manner.

The role will also include various ad-hoc and project work so you will need a flexible approach to undertaking a range of tasks.

The Individual

You will either be AAT qualified or actively studying; be self-motivated and able to deliver to tight deadlines. A high level of PC experience is desirable, particularly Microsoft Excel.

Purchasing Administrator (Maternity cover, expected until April 2009)

We're the UK's leading supplier of equipment to the retail and fashion industry. We sell an extensive range of products through our shops, mail order and the internet and we've got ambitious plans for the future. We're now recruiting for a temporary Purchasing Administrator to help with maternity cover arrangements. We'd like the successful candidate to begin work during March 2008 and the role is expected to continue until April 2009.

We're looking for an enthusiastic person with a flexible style to join our busy purchasing team, carrying out a wide variety of tasks. You'll have good administration skills and a methodical approach as well as paying great attention to detail and being happy to communicate with our large range of suppliers. Previous experience in a purchasing, progress chasing or replenishment environment would be useful, but you'll get full training and support as you learn the job. You must be computer literate, and any Lotus Notes or SAP knowledge would be an advantage.

Interested in this great opportunities? Please call Viv Collins on 01279 435333 or e-mail your CV by Monday 11 February 2008 to jobs@morplan.com. Please be sure to include your salary expectations.

Training Adviser - Tesco Project

£18,311 pro rata

Based: Hertfordshire & Essex

Part time - 2 days per week

6 months temporary contract - pending review

Assisting in the delivery of an exciting project in the retail environment, you will be experienced in the delivery of Key Skills and preferably hold D or A Assessor awards. You main responsibilities will include the delivery of key skills to a group of young people from a variety of backgrounds, providing support, development and individual learning plans to enable learners to reach their full potential. As well as being an excellent communicator, you will be able to encourage, motivate and engage learners, a background in key skills along with a retail background would be desirable coupled with a systematic approach to planning and organising and a commitment to team working. In return, you can expect all the satisfaction of making a real and measurable difference every day.

Assessor

£16,184 - £19,114 per annum pro rata depending on experience

Specialising in Customer Service, Business Admin

Based: North East London

Part time, hours negotiable

Mentoring, supporting and assessing a group of learners to NVQ standards, you will design and deliver a training programme which will incorporate the skills required during employment to a range of learners (some of which may have social or learning disadvantages and may have had negative experiences of learning and education). Each programme will need to be tailored to the learners' individual needs.

You will be occupationally competent and will possess specialist knowledge, expertise and technically competence within the specified occupational areas and hold either the D32/33 or A1 Assessor Award.

We seek individuals who possess the ability to encourage, motivate and engage learners, have strong interpersonal and communication skills along with a systematic and analytical approach to planning and organisation.

A car driver with access to your own vehicle is essential for this role. You will be required to undertake a CRB check.

Luv-Lee jubbly
Hawks storm back to beat promotion-chasers

Harlow Tn 3, Hendon 1
(Ryman League, premier division)

By JOEL TADMAN
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Hawks roared back from a goal down to pick up an impressive scalp in the shape of second-placed Hendon.

This was certainly unfinished business for Harlow Town, who were denied a victory in the corresponding fixture at Hendon in the autumn when the Middlesex side grabbed a 90th-minute equaliser.
David Lee starred for the Hawks with two goals from set-pieces either side of half-time with Raphael Sylvester also finding the net for Harlow at Barrows Farm on Saturday.
The Hawks showed great resilience after losing goalkeeper James Hasell early on through injury.

Hasell was carried off on a stretcher on 20 minutes and needed internal stitching after colliding with Hendon striker Lubomir Guentchev. Substitute keeper Michael Dumoulin filled in competently but was rarely troubled.
Hendon deservingly went ahead on 32 minutes after Hawks defender Shaun Gliddon brought down Guentchev, giving the referee no choice but to award a penalty. Striker Brian Haule converted to put the away side ahead.
Towards the end of a fairly uneventful first half, Lee initiated the Hawks' comeback on 37 minutes with a majestic free-kick from 22 yards that curled around the Hendon wall

Although the half-time whistle halted Harlow's momentum, they were ahead three minutes after the restart. Hendon only managed to half clear a left-wing cross by debutant striker Chris Smith and were punished when Kenny Davis picked up the loose ball and looped it over the goalkeeper and defence for Sylvester to pounce at the back post.
Hendon's frustration was evident and referee Sean Feerick was forced to show yellow cards to three Hendon players for late challenges.
Harlow continued to press forward and on 62 minutes a through ball from midfield put Sylvester in on goal only for his shot to be cleared off the line by defender Sam Page.

Six minutes later, Lee tried his luck with another free-kick from just outside the box but his effort was parried wide by Hendon keeper Richard Wilmot.
The Middlesex side failed to create any decent chances in the second half, which enabled Harlow to kill the game off late in the game. Substitute Dean Williams was brought down by Wilmot inside the area after a clever through ball from Sylvester. The game's second penalty was dispatched with ease by Lee for his second goal.

Hawks player-boss Ryan Kirby was delighted with his side's second-half display. "The third goal was key to seeing the game out comfortably, but we kept creating chances. "We showed the same desire that we showed against Hornchurch."
Referring to Gliddon's needless foul for the Hendon penalty, he added. "It was naïve of him. He could have gone downhill and I was talking to him to make sure that didn't happen. I'm pleased he got on top of it."

Penguin Tomas takes gold despite injury

TEN-year-old Tomas Stevens still struck gold despite swimming with a broken finger!
The Harlow Penguins swimmer shone in his race as the club returned from the first round of the Essex County Swimming Championships in Thurrock with four gold medals, five silver and four bronze.
Tomas, pictured right, swam brilliantly to retain his 50m backstroke title in 38.11 seconds.
He also earned silver in the 50m butterfly with a personal best (PB) time of 36.23s.
Tomas's older brother Chris (13) was first in the 50m freestyle in his age group with a top time of 27.76s.
Chris also clinched silver in the 50m butterfly and was sixth in two other finals and achieved PBs in all his races.

Ruby Groome (16) achieved fifth places in the 16 and over 50m freestyle (29.00s) and the 50m butterfly (31.54, PB). These times, as well as her 33.17s in the 50m backstroke, have qualified her for the Eastern Region Championships.
Ruby's sister Annie (14) won gold in the 50m butterfly with a personal best time of 31.57s. She also gained silver with 34.28s (PB) in the 50m backstroke.
Alex Francey (15) achieved Eastern Region qualifying times in all his races. He won gold in the 50m freestyle with 31.57s (PB) and then fought hard to win silver in the 50m backstroke (30.56, PB).
Alex also sealed bronze in the 50m breaststroke (33.86s) and also finished fifth in the 50m butterfly after recorded a new best time in the heats.
Penguins lie fifth in the county championships.
Other results :- Senner Koskocan (silver – 50m breaststroke; bronze 50m freestyle and 50m backstroke; 5th 50m butterfly); Kaz Melvin (bronze 50m breaststroke; 5th 50m backstroke); Craig Warwick (5th 50m backstroke; 8th 50m butterfly); Tori Koskocan (8th 50m backstroke).

Extra-time win puts Epping into last eight

EPPING progressed to the last eight of the Essex Premier Cup with a 2-1 home win over Basildon after extra time.
Epping, who play two divisions above their opposition, grabbed a late winner and now face Brentwood Town in the quarter-finals.
The Essex Olympian League premier division side started well but Basildon fought their way back into the match and forced some good saves out of Epping keeper Luke Kingston.
After a goalless 90 minutes, the breakthrough finally came via substitute Leven Okan eight minutes into extra time. His cross found Mark McKenzie in the penalty area who laid the ball off to Joss Albone to strike home from 18 yards.
Epping doubled their lead early in the second period of extra time when Alex Talks evaded two Basildon defenders to fire in.
Basildon halved the deficit after a goal mouth scramble in the Epping box but it was a case of too little too late for the away side.

Blow to keeper Hasell

However, Dumoulin proved a more than capable deputy last time and shone again against Hendon.
"When Michael came on his kicking was so good and that caused them problems," said Hawks player-boss Ryan Kirby added. "He was excellent but now we will need to get cover for Michael."
Kirby was also pleased with the debut of young striker Chris Smith (19), who also scored a hat-trick for the reserves in a 6-0 home win over Leighton Town last Wednesday. "He worked very hard and closed things down. He will nick a couple of goals," he said.
● HARLOW Town supporters won 3-2 in a charity match against Hendon supports at Ladyshot prior to Saturday's game. Alan Burnett and Aaron Whitnall were among the scorers for the Hawks.

Robins lose out

THE Robins' inability to triumph in decisive moments proved crucial as they lost 3-0 to a clinical Romford side in the Essex Senior Football League.
Sawbridgeworth Town went behind after three minutes from Lee Cornhill's 30-yard piledriver.
Robins left-back Dan Crook was forced off after a heavy collision with Romford's Des Gallen on 15 minutes. Gallen also went off.

Greg Hughes and Adam Sontag both shot just wide of a Romford post, while Kevin Moore's shot cleared the bar.
Robins defender Tom Day almost scored an own goal before Romford doubled their lead on 55 minutes when Martin Heed headed in a cross from the left.

The visitors added a third on 84 minutes when Manzi Mbala fired in from a corner.
SAWBRIDGEWORTH TN: Burrell, Hayter, Crook, Day, Longley, Sontag, Smith, Ellice (Waggitt 58), Hughes, Moore, Conlan (Simmons 80).

Quintet seal medals at county champs

FIVE local athletes earned medals in the Essex Indoor Athletics Championships at the Lea Valley Athletics Centre at Picketts Lock in North London.

Tom Larkin (Harlow) claimed a silver medal in the 400m (53.61 seconds) and a bronze in the 200m, with a personal best (PB) time of 23.79s.

He was also fifth in the U-17 men's 60m (7.68s).

Mark Hunt (Harlow) earned a silver in the junior men's 400m final in 50.68s.

Kathrine Foy (Epping) excelled again. In the junior women, she came second in the 400m in 60.68s (PB) and later ran a superb race to win the 800m in 2 mins 18.5s.

Tom Richards (Harlow) grabbed an unexpected silver medal in the U-17 men's shot putt with a throw of 11.07m (PB), while Cherice McKay (Harlow) gained a silver in the U-17 women's shot putt with a throw of 9.79m (PB), beating a 2007 champion into third place.

Ria Ali Jackson (Harlow) was 5th in the senior women's 60m in 8.35s and Daniel Yaxley (Harlow) was 4th in the U-17 men's 400m in 59.08s.

● TWO Harlow Running Club members competed in the Folksworth 15-mile race.

Colin Moody was first home in 1hr, 41mins 5secs in 39th place and was the first V55.

Alan Wise, in his first race over the distance, finished close behind in 1:42.15 in 45th place, out of about 350 runners.

This Sunday seven Harlow runners completed in the Southern Cross Country Championships at Parliament Hill.

Results, 8km: Jenny Spelling 46.33 (216th). 15km: John Tennant 66.39; John Evans 68.23; Matt Jones 72.31; Graham Pugh 74.39; Martin McColgan 76.22

Benfleet 15: Peter Barrett 2:19.31 (PB).

Coach sin-binned as Clapton are beaten

A FEISTY encounter at Upper Clapton which saw five yellow cards ended in a 7-5 defeat for the Thornwood Common side in this Essex League division one match against Old Brentwoods, writes JOEL TAD-MAN.

Clapton at one stage had only 13 players on the field but managed to keep within touching distance of their opponents until eventually going down by two points.

Rob Eales, who came on after 13 minutes to replace the injured Owen Coyne, was sent to the sin-bin five minutes later for retaliating against an opponent who allegedly punched him.

Forwards coach Alan Chinn-Shaw was also shown a yellow card after the referee spotted alleged violent play.

The deadlock was broken on eight minutes when a Brentwood centre picked up a loose ball 15 metres from the Clapton line and sprinted through for a converted try.

From a penalty a kick to touch and a line-out, Clapton launched a rolling maul and prop Jeremy Rose drove over the line to score his first try in more than two years. The try was unconverted, leaving the score 7-5 to Brentwood at half-time.

Jake Philips was the third Clapton player to be sin-binned.

Lead is cut at top

LEADERS Servo Hawks were held to a 4-4 draw by Swift Halfs in the Harlow & District Darts League.

Halfs' Billy Woods notched his second 180 of the season.

Pretenders' Dicky Smith and Rob Winslow both hit their second 180s of the season.

Other results: White Admiral 7, UG Social 1; Young Pretenders 8, Swift Arrows 0; CC Whites 6, Moot House 2; Moot House Arrows 5, CC Foxes 3.

Player dislocates knee

A HARLOW & District Football League game had to be abandoned when a player dislocated his knee on Sunday.

Lindsey Street were winning 2-1 against GPCA reserves when Lindsey's Chris Rhodes (28) suffered the injury after 40 minutes.

He was taken to hospital and later discharged.

Another defeat threatens Harlow's promotion bid

HARLOW'S promotion bid was hit by defeat to Old Southendian in a seven-goal thriller in division four south east of the NE14 East Men's Hockey League.

Poor individual performances stretched the recent bad run of the Passmore School team.

The hosts started well and went in front from a penalty corner.

Harlow looked dangerous on the counter attack with Steve White and Chris Shearman-Slack combining well together.

However, all too often the play broke down before reaching the final third.

The visitors grabbed an equaliser when a Shearman-Slack cross deflected past the Old Southendian keeper with White getting the final touch as it crossed the line.

But Harlow soon found themselves 2-1 down, following another strike from a penalty corner.

Matters got worse before half-time as Old Southendians forced home a third for a thoroughly deserved lead.

Soon after the restart Harlow hit back when Shearman-Slack slotted in from a well-worked penalty corner.

Moments later Harlow were denied an equaliser when the umpire ruled out Shearman-Slack's 'goal' for dangerous play.

Harlow continued to press and levelled the score when White fired home from a penalty corner.

The visitors could have taken the lead when Shearman-Slack and White combined to beat the Old Southendian keeper – only to see a miraculous save off the line by a defender.

This seemed to deflate the Harlow team and the hosts fired in their third penalty corner of the match in the final few minutes to take all three points.

● HARLOW Ladies held premier division leaders Basildon to a 1-1 home draw in the Essex Women's League.

After defeating Basildon away earlier in the season, this result ensures that Harlow remain the only league side to have taken points from Basildon so far.

The hosts got their short passing game working well early on but could not stop the leaders going ahead from a short corner early in the first half.

Despite additional pressure from Basildon, Harlow regrouped and went into the second half confident of getting something out the match.

This moment came with 15 minutes to go when Carolyn Rushton and centre forward Emma Tweddle combined on a short corner to equalise for Harlow.

Basildon had chances to steal the win but Harlow held on thanks to some fine saves by keeper Nicky Chesworth.

Gutsy Rams grind out important win

HARLOW Hawks' Paul Jessop scored 38 points as his side defeated Stanborough Red Stars 93-37 to progress into the first round of the Herts County Cup.

The Hawks brought in Steve Wright and Tom McBride for this clash against their division two opponents.

Harlow dominated the game right from the off with Jessop scoring 14 points in the first 10 minutes.

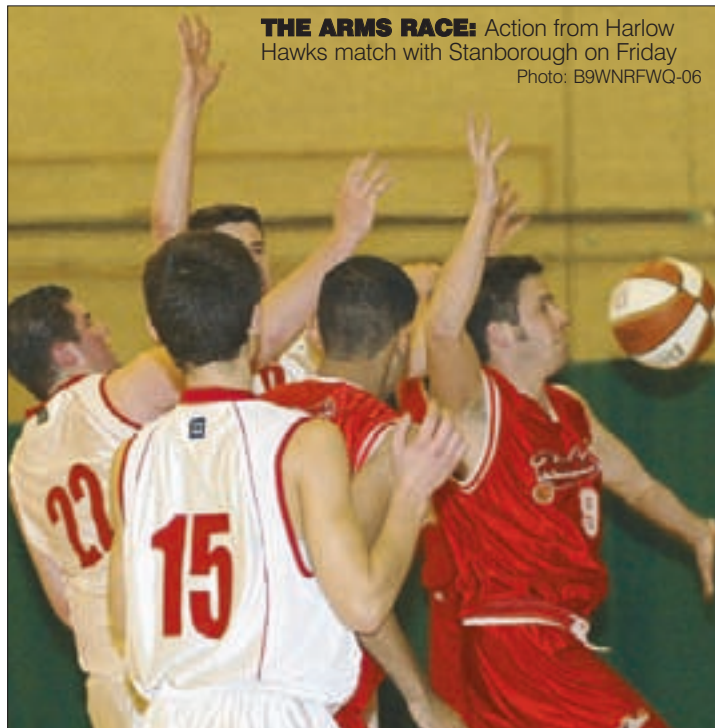

This was to be the tale of the match for the Red Stars who, despite phases of good play particularly in the fourth quarter, were unable to make up the deficit.

Harlow took a 16-point lead into the second quarter.

Stanborough's high turnover count led to some fast break scores for Mike Freeman and Lee Collier in a run of eight unanswered points.

Hawks were 42-13 ahead at half-time.

Harlow went on a 16-0 run in the first six minutes of the third quarter. Tom McBride's movement and awareness was eventually rewarded with two scores.

Heading into the final quarter Harlow led 66-19 and could afford to rest players, allowing the Red Stars to enjoy a 10-6 run.

But back-to-back three-pointers from Shab Niaz and another from Dave Spashett sealed a comfortable win for the Hawks.

Hawks player-coach Niaz said: "I had two things that I wanted to get out of this game – team defence and court time to guys who haven't had much of it in the last few games.

"We had lapses [in defence] in some parts of the game but recovered and overall it was very good. "We have a few important games in February and everybody needs to be ready."

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (38pts), Freeman (10), Spashett (7), S. Niaz (6), Haddow (6), Jones (6), Collier (6), Z. Niaz (5), Wright (6), McBride (4), Burgess.

IF the Rams are to go up this season they simply must win those gritty games against the bottom sides – and that's exactly what they did on Saturday.

Harlow had to work hard for their victory at basement side Colchester but the two points gained took them to within a point of second-placed Diss.

Diss still have a game in hand over the Rams but Matt Davies's side still have to play the Norfolk side, away on Saturday April 12.

The visitors shone in the line-outs and rolling mauls but the Colchester pack worked hard to prevent Harlow from dominating in midfield and the home fly-half kicked well to keep the Rams out of striking distance.

Colchester went ahead through a fifth-minute penalty before Harlow bounced back with an unconverted try on 10 minutes.

The forwards set up good ball before it was spun wide and Will Grimley drew in a defender before out-pacing the back on the outside to score a try.

However, a good Colchester forwards move resulted in their number eight scoring an unconverted try on 20 minutes to put the hosts 8-5 up.

But Harlow fought back

Colchester 15, Harlow 19 (London & SE League, division three north east) and scored two tries. These came on the half-hour mark and just before the break.

A slick backs move preceded Simon Vanbeck going outside the first defender and then cutting in towards the posts to give Harlow skipper Nick Ford an easier conversion.

Vanbeck linked with sub Ben Jarvis and Josh Bohl before scoring his second try which Ford converted to put the visitors 19-8 ahead at the interval.

Colchester came back strongly after the break, making good use of their forwards in support of the backs.

The strategy paid off on 50 minutes as a home lock powered over for a try which was converted to cut Harlow's lead to four points (19-15).

Another Colchester attack saw them almost make the line and only determined defence – plus a huge tackle by Kain Claridge – stopped them from scoring a winner.

Harlow protected their slender lead in the last quarter for the all-important win.

Thumping victory for team leaves Wanstead flat

HARLOW U-16 demolished Wanstead U-16's by 53-0 in a one-sided match at Ram Gorse.

The Young Rams played some brilliant rugby and scored nine tries in their emphatic victory.

After some early pressure from Wanstead, Harlow began to dominate and were ahead on 15 minutes when outside centre Jordan Cable beat the defence to score after a clever pass from Danny Smith.

Harlow added four more tries before the half-time whistle and another four in the second half.

Youth rugby round-up

Cable, along with centre Joe Pite, both scored two tries each while fly-half Smith converted on four occasions. The other try scorers were James Heaton, Lennie Hayden, Ned Pillar, Sam Gregory and Jack Palmer.

Missed tackles cost the Harlow U-17 team dear in a 31-14 loss at Southend.

The home side raced into the lead on five minutes and, despite Harlow briefly drawing level, Southend were ahead again after scoring twice before half-time.

A brief Rams revival saw Joe Heeney sprint 65 metres to score arguably the best try of the match but this was not enough.

Harlow U-15 suffered a 58-0 defeat at South Woodham Ferrars.

The Junior Rams were overrun by a powerful and organised home side who are one of the county's top teams.

Harlow U-14 started brightly by scoring the first try away at East London, but were unable to maintain their advantage, eventually losing by a scoreline of 62-14.

Harlow's Zi Dargan-Lloyd opened the scoring. His try was converted by fly-half Ryan Matthew.

Rams prop Jamie Alden crossed the line for Harlow's second try after the break. This was converted by Matthew.

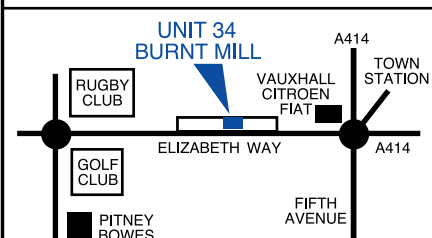

Harlow U-11's overcame Enfield Ignatians 27-7.

Try-scorers were Lee Bilton, Frankie Gallagher, Rhys Davis, Adam Seeley and Harrison Green. Chay Clark added one conversion.

Harlow U-10's won 30-15 against Enfield Ignatians.

New blow for keeper Hasell

INJURY-jinxed Hawks keeper James Hasell could be out for February after sustaining a deep gash to his right knee in the 3-1 victory over second-placed Hendon.

Hasell (26) was stretchered off after only 20 minutes of Saturday's Ryman League premier division match at Barrows Farm.

He was replaced by young stopper Michael Dumoulin, who had an excellent game. Hasell sustained a deep gash to the bone at the top of his right shin and had to go to hospital for internal stitches.

The custodian has endured huge misfortune this campaign. He was ruled out for three months after fracturing a thumb in pre-season.

He returned on November 17 in the 6-2 win at Harrow Borough, but this latest setback has compounded a miserable season.

The former Leyton stopper, in his second spell at Harlow, was the spot-kick hero last season when the Hawks defeated AFC Sudbury in the play-off final to clinch promotion from division one north.

Archer bid's off target

THE Hawks have missed out on Braintree Town striker Leon Archer, writes ALAN SCOTT.

The ex-Cheshunt forward was in talks with Harlow Town director of football Tom Cunningham about a move to Barrows Farm.

However, the striker has instead joined Hawks' premier division rivals Boreham Wood on a month's loan - and therefore could face Harlow when the teams meet next Tuesday at Barrows Farm.

"I want people who want to be at the club. He gave the feeling he wanted to be somewhere else," Cunningham said yesterday.

He is also speaking to Southend United about striker James Lindie, as revealed in last week's Star, and Crystal Palace forward Charlie Sheringham.

The Shrimpers are expected to make Lindie available for a loan spell when their FA Youth Cup run ends.

They were set to visit Carlisle United in the fifth round last night (Wednesday). It is the first time the League One side have progressed to this stage of the competition.

Braintree striker switches to premier rivals

Meanwhile, the Hawks have reached a unique agreement with Southern League premier division neighbours Cheshunt which will see players from either club switching in loan deals.

Striker Danny Green (17) and defender Michael Gliddon (18) have moved to the Hertfordshire club on loan and Green scored in the Ambers' 3-1 win at Tiverton Town on Saturday.

The match was the first in charge for former Hawks assistant boss Gordon Boateng.

"Danny and Michael have dual registration," explained Harlow Town player-boss Ryan Kirby. It means that the players can turn out for either club, and so Cheshunt players can switch to Barrows Farm if Harlow are short of a player in a certain position.

"We want Danny and Michael to have games. The reserve games keep getting called off," Kirby said.

Another plus is the news that striker Raphael Sylvester could be available for the rest of the season.

The forward joined on loan from League One side Leyton Orient in October. He has missed several games as he was required by Orient due to a shortage of fit strikers.

However, Sylvester returned to the Hawks line-up on Saturday in the 3-1 victory over Hendon, and could be available for the rest of the club's premier division campaign. "That's a bonus," said Kirby. We think we have got him for the rest of the season."

The Hawks host Carshalton Athletic in the Ryman premier division at Barrows Farm this Saturday.

Striker James Bunn (hamstring) is still sidelined and wing-back Mark Taylor completes his three-match suspension.
